Hancock Circle, provided that the ground to be acquired or the cost of the same be defrayed otherwise than at public ex-"After the passage of that act, the Com-missioners of the District established a small circle from the center of this street in each direction, being, I think, some 80 or 100 feet in diameter. As the persons who owned lots in the squares above mentioned would not consent to donate any part of their property for the purpose of this circle. it was circumscribed to the narrow limits stated. The circle as laid out only affected the corner lot of square 175 and the corner diagonally opposite, in square 190. The diagonally opposite, in square 190. The circle as constructed absorbed all the parking on the corner of squares 175 and 190, encroaching slightly even upon the lots. The owners of these lots protested against the establishing of the circle at the time, alleging that it was so small as to be a blemish rather than an ornament to that "This became so apparent that Congress in the District appropriation bill passed during the first session of the Fifty-second Congress, provided as follows: That the circle at the intersection of 16th street and New Hampshire avenue, known as Hancock Circle, be and the same is hereby trans-ferred to and located at or near the intersection of 16th street extended and Morris

"Since the passage of this act no effort has been made to remove this circle, but a street railroad company has been permitted to cut through the center of the circle and lay a double track of street railway. The effect of this is to leave a half circle on each side of the double track, which has been curbed and grassed. These two little patches of grass are very small and cir-cumscribed in width, extending, I think, the entire width of the original streets from their extreme points.

Ordinarily this is the case, but if the player has a contract with the first making was indulged in to the pleasure of club that must be exchanged for a new all. contract before the deal is completed. Farrell has an unsigned contract to play with Washington this year. All he has to celebrated the Easter holidays in a fitting do is to sign it and the Washington club manner at their headquarters on O street. is bound to pay him a salary for the sea- There was a splendid attendance present,

Farrell said the other day in Boston: "I would like to go to New York, but don't feel like taking a smaller salary than I got from Washington," said he. "I have a Washington contract in my pocket, unsigned, calling for the same amount of salary offered me by New York. I received $4,000 from Pittsburg in '92, $3,000 from Washington in '35 and will not drop off several hundred dollars for the sake of playing ball even in New York."

The New York managers, for the sake of a few hundred dollars, are spoiling the fine effect of their recent deal. Their announcement that they would sooner be tail enders than give up a principle will not please ment that they would sooner be tail enders than give up a principle will not please the average patron, and if persisted in the Giants will be playing to empty benches by midsummer. Ward is now reported as indicating that Farrell is not such a great acquisition after all. Why, Grim caught more games than he did last season. That may be Grim caught ninety-two games may be. Grim caught ninety-two games, but Farrell played 122 games, or thirty

A contract at the same old figures was placed before Young, the pitcher of the Cleveland club, yesterday afternoon, and he signed it. This completes the team for the year. All exhibition games arranged for this week have been postponed because of snow that covers the ground. Graney, a new outfielder, who is to be tried by the team, will report in Cleveland today. Steps were taken at a public meeting in Kingston last evening to form a base ball club to be represented in the New York State League. The league will consist of eight clubs, as follows: Albany, Utica, Oneida, Poughkeepsie, Kingston, Johnstown, Schenectady and Pittsfield, Mass. Final arrangements for the formation of the league will be made at a meeting to be held in Albany tomorrow. A contract at the same old figures was

"Jiggs" Parrott and his brother Tommy drifted into Chicago yesterday. Jiggs is ready to play for Anson and Tommy is en route for Cincinnati. He is confident that he will rank as one of the leading pitchers of the season. Van Haltren and big Bill Brown also reached the city. They came direct from California, where they have been spending the winter. Van Haltren was on his way to New York. He was delight. on his way to New York. He was delighted with the prospect of playing there. "When I got the contract," he said, "I could not sign it too quick. I am not a back number yet, and I expect to do good work for the team." Bill Brown is not as fat as he was at the close of last season, having got rid of about thirty-five pounds of flesh.

Jim O'Rourke says of Farrell: "New York can well afford to be just to a man whose equal they never had as a catcher and batter. Charley Farrell, the cheerful, willing worker, has no superior on the base ball field. Farrell is an ideal player, and. I think, the most brilliant star on the field On acount of the continued cold weather Manager Schmelz decided not to play a ball game today. Should the temperature become warmer by tomorrow afternoon, however, the "Kids" and "Vets" will again however, the "Kids" and "Vets" will again line up, with Egan as pitcher for the for-ner and Stocksdale doing the twirling for the older men.

As Stricker has not yet reported and has made no effort to get into playing condi-tion, he was last evening given an unconditional release.

Two new sets of caps arrived today. One is of white and black stripes and the other of red and black. Manager Schmelz claims that Washington will be the best uniformed that Washington will be the best uniformed club in the country, and Mr. Wagner agrees with him. According to the latter, the uniforming of a base ball club is similar to the scenery of a theater. A good one reflects credit on the city which the team represents.

In the appropriation bill for the District of Columbia, passed by the second session of the Fiftieth Congress, there was a provision, as follows: That the Commissioners of the District of Columbia are authorized and directed to condemn a sufficient amount of ground at the intersection of 16th and U streets and New Hampshire avenue from squares 175, 176, 177, 189 and 190, for the purpose of constructing a circular reservation, the same to be called Hancock Circle, provided that the ground to be acquired or the cost of the same be

The issue presented was whether, by the terms of said act, the pension of an insane, idiotic or permanently helpless minor which had ceased by reason of the minor attaining the age of sixteen years before the date of the passage of said act was renewable. It was held by a former assistant secre-tary that such pensions were not renewable by the terms of said act, and all such cases were rejected. Secretary Reynolds in reversing the for mer rulings of the department and admit-ting these claims held that in this and like cases "where, under the general law, the pension of minor children who were insane, idiotic, or permanently helpless has termi-nated by reason of attaining their pen-sionable makerity prior to passage of act
